1 INTRODUCTION

Todo: This is a TODO

Write your introduction here. This is a test citation [1]

Towards the end of the introduction, you should also add your preliminary reasearch questions (RQ) here. You may want to state your main RQ like this:

Remark: This is a remark

Can a master thesis template serve as a starting point for a thesis graded 8 or above?

You can then list the sub-research questions as:

- How does the structure of the template influence the final thesis?
- Is textual guidance sufficient for structured working?

2 RELATED WORK

Write about your related work here.
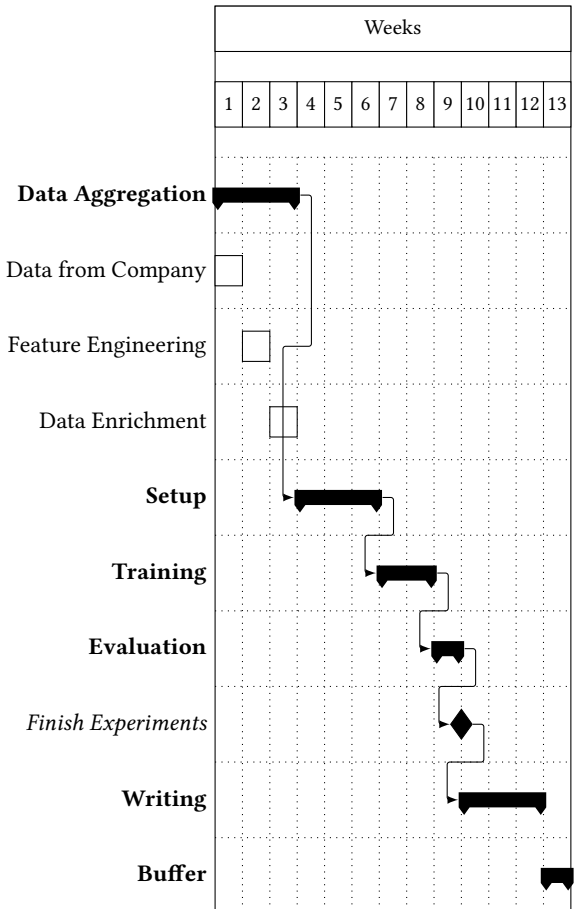

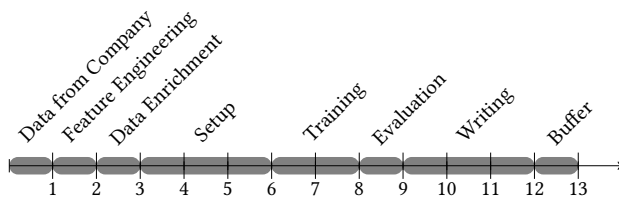

3 METHODOLOGY

Write about your methodology here.

4 RISK ASSESSMENT

In this section you should illustrate your risks (such as missing data, different distributions, difficult modelling, etc.) and how you plan to mitigate them.

5 PROJECT PLAN

In this section you should illustrate your risks (such as missing data, different distributions, difficult modelling, etc.) and how you plan to mitigate them.

It's always good to show your academic maturity with a visual timeline of the tasks you want to complete throughout your project. You can either use a timeline as below or a GANTT chart shown on the right.
